

Plan Like Martha and Host Like Mary

Make it meaningful. Make it memorable.

Who is coming?

What do they need most right now?

What margin or capacity do I have to contribute?
How do I want to show up for my guests?

Menu:

- Any dietary accommodations?
- Home-cooked? Take out? Pot Luck? Catering?

Decor:

Party favor/take away:

Make it easier. Buy back relational time by asking...

Is there anything I can do now that will make my life easier later?

What can I decide on ONCE and repeat until it no longer makes sense or no longer serves a need?

Is it necessary? Is it memorable? Does it enhance to my goal? If the answer to either of those questions is "no"- let it go!

How do I want my guests to feel while they're here?

What is the goal for this gathering?

By the end of the gathering, what will I regret not having done?

Point of Connection/Questions to ask/Activity:

How do I want to finish/make it stick?

How will I follow Up?

Notes

Three pillars of Biblical Hospitality:
Encourage. Disciple. Evangelize.

